Shalom, and welcome to the fifth annual National Jewish Retreat! Our exceptional faculty is drawn from across the world in order to bring you the best in Jewish teaching and learning.

We know that people come to a retreat for different reasons, and we want to make it easy for you to customize your own personal learning experience. That’s why we’ve classified our sessions this year in ways that let you nurture yourself in a variety of ways.

We’ve tagged sessions that are designed to feed your mind with a brain icon. Some of these sessions are text-based; others explore modern applications of Jewish law. But all of them are designed to stretch your thinking in creative and exciting ways.

Sessions designed to stir your emotions have a heart icon. These will make you laugh and cry, ignite your soul, and move your spirit. They’re about prayer, repentance, love, and loss. And we will provide the human wisdom and compassion that helps you to make sense of your inner world.

Practical and hands-on sessions have a hand icon. These are the how-tos of Jewish life: making challah, or learning about the daily prayers. These sessions will provide you with skills and information that you can take home.
Finally, we’ve tagged sessions on personal interaction with an ear. Share your challenges in trying to increase your Jewish involvement. Sing and dance together at a concert. Spend an evening talking with one of our scholars. Share your experiences and build new friendships.

We hope you will enjoy the outstanding range of learning provided by this year’s retreat. And if there is something you would like to study that is not represented here, please be sure to let us know. We are often able to arrange private sessions with faculty members on the study topic of your choice.

For added security, we request that you wear your name tags at all times. Please note that if you have any questions about visiting the surrounding area, the Hyatt Reston’s concierge, located near the front desk, will be happy to advise you.

Does G-d Make Us Good?
Regency A
Mrs. Shimona Tzukernik

Is morality dependent upon religion? Can you be a good person without G-d? Are there universal truths about morality, or only our own opinions? This issue has been debated over the centuries by philosophers and religious scholars alike. Find out how the answers to these questions may change the way you look at religion.
Thank G-d: A Jewish Guide to Gratitude

Regency B
Rabbi Tzvi Freeman

How do we live a more thankful, grateful life? Join Rabbi Freeman on a guided step-by-step journey through the words and thoughts of the Modeh Ani (prayer upon awakening), providing imagery and concepts for mindful focus. Learn about this essential prayer and discover the ancient method for starting the day off on the right foot.

8:30 p.m.

Killing Kasztner – The Movie

Grand Ballroom EFG

Moderator: Rabbi Shmuel Kaplan
Panel discussion featuring the director, Gaylen Ross, and two survivors of Kasztner’s transport.

Some consider Rezso Kasztner a collaborator who sold his soul to Eichmann and the SS. Others view him as a hero for rescuing almost 1700 Hungarian Jews, sending them on a train to safety in Switzerland. In Israel today, few figures remain as controversial as Kasztner. Learn how — even after a sensational libel battle in a trial that galvanized the nascent country, and his ultimate assassination in Tel Aviv in 1957 — Kasztner remains an enigma in the public mind.

❤️ Are You Living or Just Existing?
Regency Ballroom A
Rabbi Manis Friedman
A life of happenstance — of existing without meaning — is painful, hollow, and unholy. But true life — one endowed with goodness — is a pleasure, a privilege, and divine. More than mere semantics, Rabbi Friedman teaches that when you’ve “got life,” your existence on earth is validated, justified, and redeemed. Now that is a message you can live with!

❤️ Evidence! G-d and the Science of Reincarnation
Regency Ballroom B
Rabbi Avrohom Jacks
Are the eternal teachings of the Torah and our modern understanding of science diametrically opposed, or do they enhance each other by revealing a divine symmetry of purpose? Learn how scientific methods can be used to prove the existence of G-d, the afterlife, and reincarnation.

❤️ Will the Real Jewish Woman Please Stand Up?
Lake Thoreau
Mrs. Shimona Tzukernik
How do the Torah and Jewish tradition view women? Are they overlooked and undervalued, or are they empowered teachers and pillars of Jewish family life? Explore our secular cultural assumptions through our “ethnocentric lens,” and see what unconsciously feeds our understandings of women in Torah: a fresh take on the pivotal role of women in Torah.

10:25 a.m. – Workshops

❤️ The Crossroads of American and Jewish Law
Regency A
Rabbi Yona Reiss
We live a dual life, pulled between the uniquely Jewish traditions that bind us and our duties as citizens of the United States. What does a Jew do when traditional Jewish law seems to clash with American law? This session seeks to examine those places where American law and Halachah overlap and how they can be synthesized with modern Jewish life.
Biblical Diplomacy: From the Sphinx to the Senate
Regency B
Dr. David Luchins
Joseph helped Egypt capitalize on its period of economic growth and then continue to grow during times of famine and recession. What can we learn from the biblical narrative of a young Hebrew servant catapulted into the upper echelons of Pharaoh’s court? Was he a role model for statesmanship? This session provides a deeper look at Joseph’s story, uncovering many modern principles of diplomacy to help us maneuver through the challenges of contemporary Jewish life.

Mind in Control
Lake Fairfax
Dr. Gill Heart
One of the fundamental teachings of Chassidic thought is that “the mind rules over the heart.” In this engaging and interactive session, Dr. Heart will demonstrate how to take control of your emotions and live a more balanced life with this Kabbalah-based “Mind In Control” technique. Taught by a former commanding officer of the Israeli Defense Force’s special operations unit, these lessons will help you deal with the stress and demands of daily life.

11:50 a.m. – Workshops
The Sacred and the Sensual
Regency B
Mrs. Shimona Tzukernik
In a landscape of broken families we all search for the foundations of a successful relationship. Join Shimon Tzukernik on a journey through the spiritual, metaphysical, psychological, and practical aspects of what it means to connect at the deepest of levels.

Kabbalah and Quantum Physics: Of Mind and Matter
Lake Thoreau
Rabbi Zalman Abraham
We stand at the brink of a new age, where research into the building-blocks of the universe attests to the truths of centuries-old kabbalistic wisdom. Just how unified are we with the matter that inhabits our universe? Can our positive thoughts actually create a positive reality? Explore the parallels between quantum physics and Kabbalah, and how they enhance our daily lives.
Kidnapped! Bringing Our Soldiers Home at Any Price?

Regency A
Rabbi Dovid Eliezrie

Over four years after the capture of Gilad Shalit, the debate about his return rages on. Should he be brought home at any price? At what point should Israel be willing to release hundreds of terrorists in return for one Israeli soldier? A glimpse into the debate in Jewish law and Israeli society regarding prisoner exchange.

A House Divided: The Controversy Over Conversion

Regency Ballroom B
Rabbi Yona Reiss

A ruling in a British court reopens a highly controversial and divisive subject. Israel and the Diaspora stand divided over legislation that some say threatens to drive a wedge into the heart of the Jewish people. The question: Who is a Jew, and who gets to decide? The answer may surprise you.

The Emergence of American Judaism

Regency Ballroom A
Presenter: Professor Jonathan Sarna
Moderator: Mrs. Baila Olidort

From Rodrigo de Triana, the Marrano sailor aboard Columbus’s ship, the Pinta, who first spotted land in the New World, to Haim Solomon, the prime financier of the American Revolution, the Jewish people have played an integral role in the history of our country. Take a guided tour through the last 350 years of American Jewish history with one of the most eminent historians in America today.
From Krakow to Krypton: Jews, Comics, and the Creation of the Superhero
Lake Fairfax
Rabbi Simcha Weinstein

Batman, Superman, Spider-Man and the Fantastic Four: some of the greatest comic-book heroes were created by Jews. How did the Jewish roots of these caped crusaders shape their modern images? They disguised themselves to save the world, but did they also disguise their Jewish values?

Heaven’s Kitchen: Kashrut and the Kabbalah of Food
Lake Thoreau
Mrs. Rochel Kaplan

“You are what you eat,” but is kosher just about food? Delve into one of the most important aspects of a Jewish home and learn what it means to truly live a kosher life. From practical tips on smoothly running a kosher kitchen, to a deeper insight into why we keep kosher.

3:30 p.m. – Workshops

Antebellum Anti-Semite?
Ulysses S. Grant and the Jews
Regency Ballroom A
Professor Jonathan Sarna

In his infamous “General Orders Number 11,” written in Oxford, Mississippi on December 17, 1862, Grant excluded Jews from his department. “The Jews, as a class, violating every regulation of trade established by the Treasury Department, and also Department orders, are hereby expelled from the Department.” Was Grant an anti-Semite or were his beliefs manipulated by the politics of his time?

Learning to Like the People You Love
Regency Ballroom B
Rabbi Manis Friedman

As the saying goes, it’s easy to love someone; it’s liking him or her that’s hard. Learn how to make the relationships that matter the most, more meaningful. In this talk we will examine the nature of relationships, their G-dly dimensions, and the secrets of getting along with the people you can’t get along without.
Kabbalatoons: What Is Kabbalah and Why Should I Care?

Lake Fairfax
Rabbi Tzvi Freeman

Learn the truth about the “soul” of the Torah and how its transcendent teachings can change your life. This exciting session will include multimedia material from the popular animated Kabbalatoons series featured on Chabad.org.

From Hollywood to Holy Wood

Lake Thoreau
Mrs. Molly Resnick

A remarkable odyssey from the halls of Hollywood decadence to the heights of spirituality, the story of an NBC producer’s journey of inner transformation will inspire one and all.

4:45 p.m. – Workshops

Shtick Shift

Lake Thoreau
Rabbi Simcha Weinstein

The Jewish people have long used laughter and humor as a tool to deal with the harsh realities of life. From Vaudeville greats and the Borscht Belt tummlers, to modern comedic greats, learn how Judaism has changed the world of laughter and taught us all how to kvetch.

Hike and Meditation

Meet in the lobby
Mrs. Shimona Tzukernik

The early mystics and holy men used to wander the forests of Eastern Europe in an attempt to see the wonder of G-d’s world and meditate on their inner spiritual growth. Enjoy a pleasant outing at Lake Fairfax, in the Virginia countryside while we learn about G-d’s greatness and the wonders of nature.

Mind in Control

Lake Fairfax

Keeping Up With the Clintons: What Marc and Chelsea’s Wedding Says About the Jewish American Experience
Regency Ballroom B
Dr. David Luchins
The press has spun the union of the Clinton and Mezvinsky families into an American royal wedding. While the groom stood under a “multi-faith” chupah, the Jewish world split on how to deal with rising rates of intermarriage and assimilation. How do we address the changes in the Jewish American scene while still remaining true to our religious heritage? Join us as we learn about the ramifications of one of the most telling events of the modern Jewish era.

The Comedy of Marriage
Regency Ballroom A
Rabbi Manis Friedman
Men and women: two halves of one whole, or strangers from another planet? Some say that G-d’s biggest joke was having men and women marry each other. In this humorous but practical talk, Rabbi Friedman provides down-to-earth tips for happiness in marriage.

9:30 p.m. – Maariv
Grand Ballroom F and G

9:45 p.m.

Late Night With a Scholar
Do you have a question for our faculty members? Do you want to further explore a topic raised in a workshop or seminar? This is your opportunity for informal discussion with the scholars on the topic of your choice.

Kumzitz – A Singalong and Discussion
(For women only)
Lake Fairfax
Mrs. Shimona Tzukernik and Mrs. Chavi Epstein
The first Chabad Rebbe once said, “The tongue is the pen of the heart, but melody is the pen of the soul.” Experience the power of traditional Jewish music and the insight of soulful conversation in this late night women’s get-together.
Ethics in Journalism
Lake Thoreau

Mrs. Baila Olidort

Mrs. Baila Olidort, editor-in-chief of Lubavitch News Service and Lubavitch.com, will lead a spirited discussion on ethics in the media. Drawing on famous and recent case studies, as well as hypothetical scenarios in which journalists expose public and private figures in the media, they will consider the secular and Jewish positions on questions of free speech vs. slander and gossip; the journalist’s responsibility to inform the public vs. his/her responsibility to protect privileged information; and the public’s “right to know” vs. discretionary sharing of information.
7:00 a.m. – Workshops

Standing Before G-d: Understanding the Amidah
Lake Fairfax
Rabbi Tzvi Freeman
Three times a day we stand before G-d, beseeching Him for our personal needs in the Amidah prayer. How can we as mortals stand before the creator and ask for the most basic of needs, and what is the meaning of this, the most fundamental prayer in the Jewish liturgy?

Meditation and Movement (For women only)
Lake Thoreau
Mrs. Shimona Tzukernik
A healing workout that involves stretches geared to invigorate and align the body, as well as strengthening positions. The session includes self-massage techniques and Qi Gong to encourage energy flow.

 altında and Armageddon: the Nuclear Threat from Iran
Regency Ballroom B
Mr. Bradley Gordon
A madman makes an inexorable push for nuclear armament, yet the world seems to have turned a blind eye. Israel regards this nuclear Iran as an intolerable threat to its survival. America argues for restraint, preferring political sanctions and negotiations. Which strategy will ultimately succeed, and what are Israel’s alternatives?

❤️ Love, Intimacy, and the Meaning of Life
Lake Fairfax
Rabbi Simon Jacobson
Love and intimacy are among the most necessary and elusive ingredients in a happy, committed life. Join Rabbi Jacobson as he provides spiritual lessons in achieving more meaningful relationships through the ancient teachings of Kabbalah and Chasidut.

❤️ Climbing YOUR Mountain
Regency Ballroom A
Rabbi Moshe Bryski
Mount Sinai, the Temple Mount: the symbolism of mountains is found throughout the Bible. From the binding of Isaac to the revelation at Sinai, these Biblical metaphors are meant to teach us about our own lives and struggles. What are our own mountains and how do we climb them? When do we reach the peak and experience our own personal revelations?

10:25 a.m. – Workshops

❤️ Judaism and the First Amendment: Landmark Cases in American Courts
Regency A
Mr. Nathan Lewin, Esq.
From yarmulkas in the military to public menorah displays, join noted civil-liberties lawyer Nathan Lewin in an examination of famous American court cases that have impacted the Jewish community.
The Paradox of Choice: Can You Have Too Much of a Good Thing?
Lake Thoreau
Presenter: Dr. Erica Brown
Moderator: Mrs. Baila Olidort
Recent studies have suggested that while customers appreciate multiple options to choose from, too many choices don’t always bring the desired results. Does Judaism suffer from an overabundance of choice? Find out in this class about decision making and how we can get better at it.

Where Was G-d in the Holocaust?
Regency B
Rabbi Nissan Mangel
Some ask, “Where was G-d in the Holocaust?” But the real question is, “Where was humanity?” G-d was in a voice that has been speaking since man first walked the Earth, in the words, “Thou shalt not murder.” G-d wasn’t silent in the Holocaust; people were. Listen as a survivor tells his inspiring story of G-d’s presence in Auschwitz.

Yitgadal: Accepting G-d’s Greatness in the Face of Pain
Lake Fairfax
Rabbi Leibel Fajnland
Perhaps the most recognized of all Jewish prayers, the Mourner’s Kaddish is also the least understood. How can a prayer for the dead not mention the departed? Learn how these ancient words can offer comfort and healing through recognizing G-d’s presence in our lives.

11:50 a.m. – Workshops

What You Always Wanted to Know About Judaism but Were Afraid to Ask
Regency B
Rabbi Simon Jacobson
A gloves-off, no-holds-barred discussion of all the burning questions you may have about sexuality, cremation, abortion, and other controversial issues, as seen through the lens of Jewish psychology and mystical insight.
The Rebbe and the Attorney: Personal Conversations
Regency A
Mr. Nathan Lewin, Esq.
Step inside the Rebbe’s private room as we join Mr. Nathan Lewin, as he reflects on his personal encounters with the Lubavitcher Rebbe. Learn the inside story of the famous “Chabad Library Case,” from the Rebbe’s legal counsel.

Judaism and Love: A Biblical Tale of Passion
Lake Fairfax
Dr. Erica Brown
Few books in the Bible are as visually evocative as King Solomon’s parable of two lovers in the Song of Songs. From these stunning images, we’ll explore how love is fundamental to all relationships, and gain a Jewish perspective on intimacy and sexuality.

The Big Bang or The Big Bust?
Calculating the Age of the Universe
Lake Thoreau
Rabbi Abraham Jacks
What light does kabbalah shed on the traditional Jewish belief that the world is only 5770 years old? Is there a way to reconcile tradition with modern scientific theories?

1:15 p.m. – Lunch
Grand Ballroom ABCD
Rabbi Shalom Deitsch
Welcome, on behalf of Chabad of Northern VA

2:00 p.m. – Workshops
Jewish Homeland Under Attack
Regency A
Mr. Bradley Gordon
“Know its past to ensure its future.” It is imperative that we understand our people’s traditional connection to our homeland in order to better understand the political struggles of today. An historical and biblical perspective on Israel, as a response to those who seek to delegitimize our connection to the Holy Land.
Will Men and Women Ever See Eye to Eye?

Regency B
Rabbi Simon Jacobson

“Men are from Mars and women are from Venus,” but will they ever be able to come together? Join Rabbi Jacobson in addressing the similarities and differences inherent in male-female relationships, and how to succeed in making these relationships work.

Evolving from Darwin

Lake Fairfax
Rabbi Avrohom Jacks

Darwin scandalized the world when he published On the Origin of Species. Have we reached the perfection of our understanding of life, or has our perception since evolved? An intelligent argument for intelligent design, exploring some of the dramatic flaws in Darwin’s Theory of Evolution, and compelling evidence indicating a creator.

Decoding Your Life’s Purpose

Lake Thoreau
Mrs. Rivkah Kotlarsky

In an historic lecture, the Rebbe revealed a long hidden code buried in the names of the twelve sedrot (portions) of the book of Genesis. From “In the Beginning” (Bereishit) through “And he lived” (Va’yechi), the Rebbe traces the twelve stages in the journey of each of our lives.

Regency A
Rabbi Nissan Mangel

If G-d is all-knowing and merciful, how could He let the Holocaust happen? How do we reconcile G-d’s omniscience with freedom of choice? Join a survivor as we learn from the tragedies of his past in order to bring us to a brighter future.
Do You Believe in Angels?
Regency B
Rabbi Moshe Bryski
Throughout the Bible, Rabbinic teachings, and liturgical prayers, references are made to G-d’s angels, appointed to fulfill specific functions and tasks. This workshop will go beyond the abstract concept of the Holy Hosts, beckoning us to recognize the presence of angels in our own lives. A most inspirational and uplifting exercise.

Your Money or Your Life: Recalibrating Values in a Global Recession

The Jewish Survival Game
Regency B
Dr. Stephen Serbin
This workshop will focus on raising our Jewish consciousness and will provide a forum for participants to probe their Jewish identity and principles with a breadth and depth rarely encountered before. The journey is more important than the destination; the process of contemplating and discussing Jewish values is more important than the decision per se. The Jewish Survival Game provides a non-judgmental forum for the analysis and exploration of values which are often taken for granted.

Challah Baking

Grand Ballroom
Mrs. Chavi Epstein and Mrs. Matty Bryski

In general, challah refers to the two loaves of bread that form the core of the Shabbat meal. But in its more basic and halachic meaning, challah is the piece of dough that is separated and consecrated to G-d every time we bake bread. Replete with spiritual meaning, it is one of the three primary mitzvot of the Jewish woman. For more than a hundred generations, Jewish women have fulfilled this beautiful and life-transforming mitzvah.

11:50 a.m. – Workshop

The Hand of G-d in Your Life

Regency A
Rabbi Moshe Bryski

We all search for the burning bush — the moment of revelation in our lives that will usher in a new epoch in our existence — only to be let down when it doesn’t happen. If only we opened our eyes to the smaller moments in life, we would see how our lives are permeated with Divine Providence.

9:15 a.m. – Davening

Main Service
Grand Ballroom EFG
Shabbat morning prayers include two services: Shacharit (“morning” prayer) and Musaf (“additional” prayer). While prayer is a daily mitzvah, Shabbat is a truly opportune time for your soul to commune with her Creator, free as she is of the worries and concerns of the workaday world. Indeed, the Shabbat prayers exclude the usual requests for material sustenance and other physical needs, including instead more psalms and spiritually inspiring prayers — all accompanied with each community’s traditional Shabbat tunes.
